

EAST 328. ARCHAEOLOGY EAST ASIAN EMPIRES.

---

Credits: 3

Offered by: East Asian Studies (Faculty of Arts)

This course is not offered this catalogue year.

Description

An examination of utilitarian and elite objects, art, architecture, cities and tombs from the early to medieval period dynastic states (ca. 221 BCE-279 CE) to gain understandings of developments and changes in economic organization, art, religion, political organization, internal interactions, and external connections, along with both elite and commoner life based on recent archaeological discoveries and research. Issues in archaeological practices and theories, and the use of received texts to understand the past will also be examined.

- Restriction: Not open to students who have taken ANTH 328.

Most students use Visual Schedule Builder (VSB) to organize their schedules. VSB helps you plan class schedules, travel time, and more.

Launch Visual Schedule Builder