

EDGC 423. HUMAN KNOWLEDGE CLAIMS AND EDUCATION.

Credits: 3

Offered by: Integrated Studies in Ed (Faculty of Education)

This course is not offered this catalogue year.

Description

Introduction to the evolving attitudes of the sciences and social sciences to knowledge, and how such emerging claims impact education in terms of teaching and research. Specific focus on the different methods that can be employed for understanding both the physical and human world, with particular attention on the consequences of such approaches on knowing and acting in social reality. Opportunity to develop research and teaching designs for today's globalized world.

Most students use Visual Schedule Builder (VSB) to organize their schedules. VSB helps you plan class schedules, travel time, and more.

Launch Visual Schedule Builder