EDPD 258. MAKING TECHNOLOGY EDUCATIONAL.

Credits: 2

Offered by: Education - Dean's Office (Faculty of Education)

This course is not offered this catalogue year.

Description

Demonstration of why technology should be part of education by illustrating not only how a technology rich classroom prepares students to live and work in an increasingly technological society (i.e., digital citizenship), but how technology, when properly integrated into the classroom, can enhance both the efficiency and effectiveness of teaching through increased engagement (i.e., digital badging) and provide new types of learning opportunities. Incorporating both existing and emerging educational technologies into classrooms and providing concrete examples of educational technologies in action.
