Description

Foundations in health sciences education including a broad introduction to ideas of scholarship, research and evidence-based practice, and theory-informed educational decision-making. Essentials of different research traditions and methodological approaches to advance, use, and critically evaluate works of scholarship in health sciences education. Fundamentals of ethical research, knowledge translation, and dissemination for responsible application of knowledge to important problems.

- 1. The blended format requires a total of 130 hours of learning time. This will be achieved by 15 hours of face-to-face instruction, 65 hours of online synchronous and asynchronous instruction, and 50 hours of individual work including readings, assignments and projects.

Most students use Visual Schedule Builder (VSB) to organize their schedules. VSB helps you plan class schedules, travel time, and more.
