

POLI 451. THE EUROPEAN UNION.

Credits: 3

Offered by: Political Science (Faculty of Arts)

This course is not offered this catalogue year.

Description

The emergence of the EU and its innovative institutions and policies will be studied through lectures, discussions, and a simulation (of a European Council or Parliament session). Emphasis upon current debates about the EU's developing identity, its internal political economy, its institutions of 'multilevel' governance, and its external relation.

- Note: The area in the field of Comparative Politics is Developed Areas; also in the field of International Politics.
- Prerequisite: one course each in International Relations and Comparative Politics
- Note: The field is Comparative Politics; also in the field of International Politics.

Most students use Visual Schedule Builder (VSB) to organize their schedules. VSB helps you plan class schedules, travel time, and more.

Launch Visual Schedule Builder