

PSYC 473. SOCIAL COGNITION AND THE SELF.

Credits: 3

Offered by: Psychology (Faculty of Science)

This course is not offered this catalogue year.

Description

This course examines the social psychological literature emphasizing a) social cognition - how people think about and make sense of their social experiences; and b) self theory - how people create and maintain a sense of identity. These frameworks will be applied to social psychological topics including close relationships, attitudes and self-esteem.

- Winter
- 2 lectures
- Prerequisites: PSYC 215 and PSYC 333 or PSYC 331 or PSYC 474
- Restriction: Not open to students who have taken PSYC 411

Most students use Visual Schedule Builder (VSB) to organize their schedules. VSB helps you plan class schedules, travel time, and more.

Launch Visual Schedule Builder