Description

This seminar guides students to explore the theoretical, empirical and methodological traditions in scholarship that give rise to their research question. It also provides opportunities for students to engage in collaborative discussions and presentations of their emerging research proposals to support their advancement through the program.

- Prerequisite: Completion of comprehensive exam (SWRK 701)
- Restriction: Open only to students in the joint Social Work Ph.D. program
- This course is graded as Pass/Fail.

Most students use Visual Schedule Builder (VSB) to organize their schedules. VSB helps you plan class schedules, travel time, and more.
