

HOUSING

The Global and Strategic Communications domain can refer students to an organization that can place them in the home of a local family. This arrangement provides an ideal opportunity to speak French or English in the home setting and sample our Montrealer/Québécois hospitality. As well, Off-Campus Housing offers information on lodgings close to campus. University residences are usually available to students during the Summer session only.

For more information, visit the SCS website or contact the Global and Strategic Communications domain at gsc.scs@mcgill.ca.
