

POLITICAL SCIENCE (NON-THESIS): GENDER AND WOMEN'S STUDIES (M.A.) (45 CREDITS)

Offered by: Political Science

Degree: Master of Arts

Program credit weight: 45

Research Project (18 credits)

Expand allContract all

Course	Title	Credits
POLI 693	M.A. Research Proposal.	3
POLI 694	Research Preparation 1.	3
POLI 695	Research Preparation 2.	3
POLI 696	Research Preparation 3.	3
POLI 699	Master's Research Essay.	6

Required Courses (9 credits)

Expand allContract all

Course	Title	Credits
POLI 691	Bibliographic Methods 1.	6
WMST 601	Feminist Theories and Methods.	3

Complementary Courses (18 credits)

- 9-12 credits at the 500- or 600-level as determined by the student's area of study.
- 3-6 credits, either of the following 3-credit options, or preferably, both:

Expand allContract all

Course	Title	Credits
POLI 612	Research Methods in Political Science.	3

- or a suitable more advanced course at the graduate level.
- or one of the following courses:

Expand allContract all

Course	Title	Credits
POLI 561	Seminar: Political Theory.	3
POLI 613	Selected Themes: Political Theory.	3
POLI 614	Proseminar in Political Theory.	3
POLI 616	Modern Political Analysis.	3
POLI 617	Problems in Political Theory.	3

- 3 additional credits in gender/women's studies, either:

Expand allContract all

Course	Title	Credits
WMST 602	Feminist Research Symposium.	3

- or another approved course on gender/women's studies.

Note: Should the "other" approved gender/women's studies course be taken in the Department of Political Science, the student is eligible to take a 500- or 600-level course as determined by the student's area of study outside the Department.

Candidates for the M.A. degree follow an individual program approved by the Department.