

UNDERGRADUATE SELECTION OF COURSE CONCENTRATIONS (LAW PROGRAMS)

Several courses of instruction may be grouped because they treat a common subject matter or theme. The following unofficial groupings of courses regularly offered in the faculty are intended to assist students desiring to specialize in selecting elective courses. They do not represent any academic policy decision by the faculty as to the appropriate characterization of individual offerings. Moreover, some courses appear in more than one grouping. In all cases, reference should be made to the course description.
