

EXAMINATIONS

Students should refer to Examinations: General Information for University regulations governing final examinations and deferred examinations. Note that within the Faculty of Science, the content in this subsection applies to all courses up to and including the 500 level.

The exam schedules are posted on the McGill Exams website, normally one month after the start of classes for the Tentative Exam schedule, and two months after the start of classes for the Final Exam schedule.

Students are warned not to make travel arrangements to leave Montreal prior to the scheduled end of any examination period.
